City of Kingston Hospital Nurses Receive Diplomas

Graduation Exercises Largely Attended—Nurses' Code of Ethics Stressed by Miss Laurence—Superintendent Makes Interesting Report—Diplomas Presented by H. H. Flemming.

The graduating exercises of the Class of 1928 of the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing took place Wednesday evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall, in the presence of the friends and relatives of the graduates, the Misses Marguerite Osterhoudt, Anna Marie Flynn, Ruth M. Rider and Elwine Louise Kaempfer.

The platform and hall were artistically decorated with baskets of daisies. Flowers for the graduates also adorned the platform which was flanked on either side by handsome palms.

H. H. Flemming, treasurer of the board of managers of the hospital, acted as the presiding officer and called upon the Rev. W. Poyntell Kemper, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, to pronounce the invocation.

Report of Training School.

The following interesting report of the Training School was given by Miss Jessie P. Allan, principal:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen.

The year which has passed, since presenting the 1927 School of Nursing report, has been one of much change in the school and in the hospital.

During the year 21 students were admitted to the school; 11 in October, 1927, and 10 in February of this year. These numbers taxed our capacity to the utmost and limited the size of classes admitted.

We now have the new Nurses' Home where the students can be close to the hospital, yet entirely away from its atmosphere; each in her own room, where she may study, read or rest. An abundant supply of hot and cold water in every room, with bath tub and showers on each floor, equals the facilities of many modern hotels. Small sitting rooms on two of the bedroom floors offer attractions for those who plan informal gatherings, while on another floor one finds a laundry, with tubs and built-in ironing boards, for the laundering of fine articles.

The bedrooms are attractively and tastefully furnished. The beds are of the most comfortable kind; colored spreads are to be used; pretty curtains, a dresser, desk with book rack, night table, an arm chair, a straight chair, a rug and a bridge lamp.

Many happy hours will be spent in the large well-proportoned living-room with its open fireplace and French windows on three sides. In this attractive room the nurses will relax when off duty and can entertain their friends with parties, dances, etc. We are planning to have tea served weekly, with students as hostesses to receive their friends. A small reception room, adjoining, affords additional opportunities for visiting with friends. Also on the ground floor there is a kitchen where light lunches, suppers and refreshments for parties may be prepared.

We are glad, indeed, to be together in such a desirable and comfortable building and we are especially thankful to be free of the possibility of accident coexistent with the necessity for crossing Broadway, going to and from the former Nurses' Home.

The Coykendall education building has been remodeled throughout, resulting in a group of class rooms which has given infinitely better teaching facilities. Included are well equipped laboratories for instruction in preparation of diets and for bacteriological work, a lecture room, study hall, reference library, instructor's office, and a demonstration room where nursing procedures are first taught, such as bed-making, the actual care of the patient, the preparation of poultices, the care of appliances, etc.

Working conditions in the hospital are greatly changed. Large, airy, well-lighted workrooms and sunny sanitary utility rooms are resulting in better nursing technic, with improved service to the patients.

As a further incentive to good nursing, we are glad to announce that a prize has been offered by Dr. Jacobson, to the class of 1929, which has 16 members, for the best surgical nursing care given by a member of the class during the three years.

In February of this year a most enjoyable dance was given in honor of the graduating classes of 1927 and 1928 by our Alumnae Association.

Such delightful social affairs maintain a feeling of goodfellowship between the Alumnae members and students, bringing all into harmonious relations working for the good of the school and hospital.

Other changes included the loss of Judge James A. Betts, President of our Board of Managers for many years, always a close friend of the nurses, interested in their welfare and in the development of the school.

The school has lost another valued friend in the passing of Mrs. Edward Coykendall, whose interest in the school and hospital was constantly maintained and manifested in so many unobtrusive ways.

Dr. Daniel Connelly has been greatly missed by all because of his genial personality and unfailing good humor; a true and loyal friend to every one.

Our lecture staff has been sadly

Kingston Firemen Visited Catskill And Received Cup

Village Pays Tribute to the Ten Fire Departments Which Came to Catskill's Aid in Big Fire—Parade Followed by Presentation of Loving Cups.

Catskill paid a tribute of appreciation to the ten fire departments which came to her assistance on the afternoon of May 1, of this year, when one of the most destructive fires in the history of the village broke out, by holding a big reception in the state armory in that village Wednesday evening at which time silver loving cups were presented to the various fire departments as a slight token of appreciation on the part of the residents of Catskill. The presentation was preceded by a parade of the visiting firemen and the members of the Catskill fire department through the village streets.

Kingston was represented by its board of fire commissioners, Fire Chief Murphy, members of the paid fire department and Secretary Louis S. Coe of the Chamber of Commerce, who met at the Central Fire Station at 6:30 o'clock and motored to Catskill. The delegation from Kingston was made up of President Louis Kolts and Commissioners David Burgevin and Harry Walker of the board of fire commissioners, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, Paid Firemen Richter, Barber, Carey, Albright, Gillen, Nobile, Sanford and McElrath, Superintendent Marshall Miller of the fire alarm system, City Assessor Charles Lahl, who is a former fire commissioner, and Secretary Louis S. Coe, of the Chamber of Commerce.

Kingston Leads Parade.

Kingston was assigned to the honor position in the parade that preceded the ceremonies at the state armory and the Kingston delegation marched at the head of the parade directly back of the group of visiting fire chiefs and the members of the committee who had arranged for the celebration. Back of Kingston was the delegation from Hudson. The other delegations of visiting firemen were from Palenville, Cairo, Leeds, Centerville, Saugerties, Coxsackie, Athens and East Durham, and the members of the Catskill fire department.

The line of march was along Main street, which was lined with those who had assembled to watch the parade. Red fire illuminated the line of march as the firemen stepped along to the lively strains of the bands and drum corps. The line of march carried the firemen past the scene of the big fire. The ruins have been cleaned up long since.

The parade, which formed at the state armory, disbanded at the armory as the visiting firemen marched into the drill shed where seats had been reserved for them. The chiefs of the various fire departments were seated in a row directly in front of the speakers' stand where the committee on arrangements were seated.

Judge Thorpe Presents Cups.

The big drill shed was packed with people and before the presentation lively music was rendered by a band. The presentation of the silver loving cups was made on behalf of Catskill by Judge Thorpe. The loving cup for the Kingston fire department was received by Fire Chief Murphy who spoke briefly, thanking the residents of Catskill for the gift and assuring them that Kingston always stood ready to aid them. Similar expressions were also made by the other fire chiefs of the visiting departments as they received the cups.

At the close of the ceremonies the visiting firemen marched to the basement of the armory where they were entertained with sandwiches, ice cream and cake. The Kingston delegation were loud in their praise of the hospitality of the village, and the event will live long in the memory of those who were in attendance.

A large number of automobile parties from Kingston also motored to Catskill Wednesday evening to witness the parade and the ceremonies at the state armory.

R. W. Stewart Is Acquitted

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, was acquitted today by a jury in the District of Columbia Supreme Court of charges of refusing to answer questions of the senate oil committee concerning Liberty Bond Oil profits of the Continental Trading Company.

The wealthy oil man was charged with a misdemeanor for alleged violation of Section 102 of the criminal code which provides punishment for a regularly summoned witness who refuses to answer pertinent questions asked by a congressional committee.

Stewart maintained the questions asked last February by the committee were not pertinent.

Stewart arose as the jury filed into the court room after being out since 1:05 yesterday afternoon. As the foreman pronounced him "not guilty" a smile wreathed his face and he walked over and shook hands with each of the eight man and four women.

Hold Up Bank and Shoot Policeman

Kansas City, June 14 (AP)—Six or eight bandits today held up the Home Trust Company in the downtown district here, and escaped with loot estimated at approximately $50,000. Two policemen and a bystander were shot by the robbers as they fled from the bank.

Walnut street, where the holdup occurred, was crowded with delegates and others on their way to Convention Hall, six blocks away, for today's session of the Republican National Convention. The jammed downtown streets aided the robbers in their escape.

J. B. Smith, traffic officer at 11th and Walnut, was shot in the neck and shoulder. His condition was reported dangerous. Patrolman Wiggins was shot in the leg, and an unidentified woman, standing more than a block from the bank, was wounded in the leg. The bandits fired with shotguns in their race away from the bank building.

There was no shooting in the bank. After the robbers had scooped up the money several employes hurled tear gas bombs and the bandits retreated through the overpowering fumes.

The gas was so heavy in the bank 20 minutes after the holdup that it was impossible for bank officials to enter and make an accurate check of the loss.

Minority Demand Equalization Fee

Kansas City, June 14 (AP).—The equalization fee principle of the twice-vetoed McNary-Haugen bill constitutes the basis of the farm relief plank proposed to the Republican convention today by a minority of the resolutions committee as a substitute for the plank incorporated in the platform in its stead by a 35 to 15 vote.

Calling attention to the agricultural surplus problem but not mentioning the fee by name, the minority plank seeks to put the party on record as believing "that any operations undertaken to assist farmers to meet this problem should be largely under the direction of farmers' cooperative associations, with the use of only such federal powers as are necessary to distribute the costs and losses that may be incurred in dealing with agricultural surpluses over each marketed unit of the crop whose producers are to be benefited by such assistance."

The plank subsequently endorses "the aim and principle of thus distributing the costs of concerted action over the commodity benefited," and pledges efforts by the party for "the perfection and support of a measure based on this principle which can receive general support and become a law."

Outrage, Says Senator Norris

Washington, June 14 (AP)—The acquittal of Robert W. Stewart was termed an "outrage against justice" by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"It is an outrage against justice," he said, when informed of the verdict. "It demonstrates clearly that if you have money enough to hire lawyers, you will be found not guilty, even though you admit that you are guilty."

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS PICNIC

Arrangements have been completed by the several committees in charge, for the picnic and get-together of all the members of these two orders which will take place on June 16, when at 2 p. m., a parade will form at the Mechanics' Hall, Broadway and Henry street, led by the Mechanics' Band, and proceed to Forsyth Park.

Through the courtesy of "Doc" Lown, the local manager of the Graham-Paige Company on Broadway, cars will be furnished to convey the Hon. Alfred Watson, Grand Master of the State of New York, Mayor E. J. Dempsey, and the officials who have charge of the picnic to the park.

It is expected that there will be large crowds to witness the parade, as well as take part in the events to be held in the park.

"ALLIES" WILL HAVE NAMES PLACED IN NOMINATION

Kansas City, June 14 (AP)—The four presidential candidates opposing Herbert Hoover's nomination, calling themselves the "allies," decided today after conferences to have their names placed in nomination in the face of almost certain defeat.

Some of the candidates favored withdrawing their nominating speeches and retiring from the race before the balloting started, but today the candidates, Watson, Goff, Curtis and Lowden, agreed to go forward with their original program of having their names placed before the convention.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bailey, 154 Spring street, a son, Frank Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Carney, South Washington avenue, a daughter, Edith Catherine.

Dawes, Deneen And Moses for Vice President

Appears to Hold a Kick For Delegates With Presidential Race Virtually Settled—"Strictly Neutral" Is Word From Hoover Camp.

Kansas City, June 14 (AP)—Determined to get at least one kick out of the convention with the presidential race virtually settled, Republican delegates were making the most of their opportunity today to wrangle over a vice-presidential candidate, and Dawes, Moses and Deneen seemed to be uppermost in the discussion.

But it was all in the discussion stage as the proceedings moved slowly toward selection of the presidential nominee. And until Herbert Hoover cashed in on his winning stack of delegates there appeared to be little likelihood of a crystallization of sentiment on one man for second place.

Almost every state banner carried the flag of a vice-presidential candidate, and some states were worried with two or three on their hands. While the mass of delegates was in a mood to go ahead and have a good round of balloting on the vice-presidency there were a number of leaders anxious to wait and find out Hoover's position.

Hoover is Neutral.

"Strictly neutral," was the word which went out from Hoover headquarters. Hope was held out, however, that he might indicate a choice once his nomination is recorded. For that reason, New York along with many other states, was waiting.

Some Hoover folks believed that strategy demanded a middle western candidate. Vice-President Dawes was the first name to be heard after the presidential contest appeared settled and today he still was in the minds of convention leaders of many factions.

However, the name of Senator Deneen, of Illinois, from the same state as Mr. Dawes, had popped up with a good deal of force over night and there were indications that the Hoover people closest to the secretary would look with more favor on Deneen than Dawes.

Meanwhile, the east was heard from with a roar as Senator Reed of the powerful Pennsylvania group came out for Senator Moses of New Hampshire, the permanent chairman. Reed's announcement was followed by a statement from Governor Spaulding of New Hampshire that at least ten states were in line for Moses.

East Proposes Candidates.

But there were actually a score of candidates still in the running today, with the east also proposing Senator Edge of New Jersey; Governor Fuller of Massachusetts; Representative Tildon of Connecticut, and Representative Hamilton Fish, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and William J. Donovan, all of New York.

In the west, the names of Sam R. McKelvie, former Governor of Nebraska; Senator Curtis of Kansas; Henry J. Allen, former Governor of Kansas; Governor Baker of Missouri; Hanford MacNider of Iowa; General John J. Pershing and many others were still in the running.

Senator Curtis virtually was given word that, with his state still behind him for the presidency, he will not be a vice presidential candidate. William J. Donovan, assistant to the attorney-general, and close friend of Mr. Hoover, also has dispatched word to his friends here that he is not a candidate.

However, there seemed to be no doubt of the availability of Vice President Dawes, Senator Deneen and Senator Moses. None of the trio is participating in any way in their campaigns, but none has declared absolutely he would not run.

Believe Dawes Would Accept.

The big question has been about Mr. Dawes, but his friends, including Ed. Clifford of Illinois, believe he will accept if "drafted." It is understood some of the leaders of the farm group sent word to Dawes that they were against him going on the ticket with Hoover and that Dawes indicated he would await any decision until informed of details of the party's platform.

Senator Deneen's candidacy put the problem directly up to Illinois, which probably will caucus, but there were signs that he would have that state's support if his name was presented. The Illinois senator voted not only for the McNary-Haugen bill, but to pass it over the veto of President Coolidge. However, Mr. Dawes has been regarded also as friendly to this measure.

Senator Edge's New Jersey friends were among the most active in the field today and they were confident of winning as much support in the east as any other candidate from that section, but they frankly admitted that the delegates seemed to favor a middle western candidate.

Tientsin Scene of Carnage.

London, June 14 (AP)—A Tientsin dispatch to the Evening News says that that city was the scene of terrible looting and carnage last night in disorders by gunmen following the surrender of the city by the northerners. The streets and the river Pei-Ho were strewn with dead. The feeling in Tientsin was reported tense, in fear of a repetition of the outrage.

Republican Convention Scenes.

Scenes of the Republican convention being held at Kansas City will be shown in a Fox News reel at the Broadway Theatre tonight.

Await Action of Federal Court

Hudson Residents Arraigned Here On Dry Charges Waive Examination and Give Final Bonds.

Vito Scarcoa, Charles Cripps, Adam Predpall and Joseph Catessa of Hudson were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connelly on Wednesday afternoon on a charge of violation of the Volstead law in the possession of beverages over the prescribed alcoholic content, their places having been raided some time ago by federal enforcement men under direction of the local office on Fair street. They each waived examination and gave final bonds in $500 to await action of the Federal court in New York. They were represented by Judge John J. Moy of Hudson.

Anthony Costellose, Dolly Murray and Sisto DeLuke, also from Hudson, were arraigned for violation of the Volstead act in having possession of beverages of alleged too high alcoholic content. DeLuke was discharged, his case being dismissed as he was a youth who had only been employed there a short time. The Murray woman and Costellose waived examination and each gave a final bond in $500 to await action of the federal court.

Nobile Believes They Are Safe

(Copyrighted, 1928, by the Associated Press)

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 14 (AP)—General Umberto Nobile and the five men of the crew of the Italia with him stranded off Northeast Land believe that they are now in safety.

In communications exchanged between the Citta Di Milano and the Nobile party, Giuseppi Biogi, radio operator for the stranded group, said that the group, which has been waiting rescue for almost three weeks, felt that safety was in sight.

This response, which was not elaborated, was felt at Kings Bay to indicate that the party is now so near Boeck Island or Foyne Island that they could get ashore, or that with news of the various rescue expeditions hastening to their aid they felt sure they would be saved.

CARRINGTON AND SOTTILE CASES ARE ADJOURNED

An adjournment was taken this morning until June 28 in the hearing before U. S. Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly on the charge against Jesse Carrington, colored, and Peter Sottile of this city for alleged selling of narcotics to employees at the brickyards. Carrington and Sottile were arrested last Saturday by State Trooper Coons at Goldrick's lower yard in the town of Ulster where it is alleged the two were engaged in selling narcotics. When arrested it is alleged that a considerable amount of the dope was found on Sottile. The two traveled about the yards by automobile and at the time of the arrest the men were engaged in business at the Goldrick yard. When searched a quantity of alleged narcotics were found by the Trooper.

VATICAN DENIES POPE HAS ARTERIO SCLEROSIS.

Rome, June 14 (AP).—The Vatican authorized an emphatic denial of a statement published in the newspaper Il Brilliante today that Pope Pius was suffering from a bad attack of arterio sclerosis which was worrying his entourage.

The correspondent for The Associated Press, who called at the Vatican to ascertain the truth of the report, was able to learn that the pontiff enjoys perfect health.

Attempt To Kill Prince Kuni.

London, June 14 (AP)—An exchange telegraph dispatch from Tokyo says that an attempt was made to assassinate Prince Kuni, father of the present empress, during his visit to Formosa on May 14. This was learned when the press ban on news of the attempt was lifted today.

Republican Platform Pledges Farm Relief And Dry Enforcement

Advocates Creation of Farm Board With Power to Set Up Farmer Owned and Controlled Corporations to Prevent and Control Surpluses Through Orderly Distribution—Observance and Vigorous Enforcement of 18th Amendment.

Kansas City, June 14 (AP).—Ignoring any mention of the controverted equalization fee of the McNary-Haugen bill but pledging every assistance in the reorganization of the farmers' marketing machinery, the platform upon which the Republican candidate for President will stand in the November elections was presented to the convention today for its approval.

Federal Farm Board Proposed.

The Farm Plank, agreed upon after long and tedious hours of labor in the resolutions committee, declares a big problem faces the farmer, but instead of the equalization fee which prompted President Coolidge twice to veto the McNary-Haugen bill, it proposes the enactment of legislation creating a federal farm board clothed with power to set up farmer-owned and controlled stabilization corporations or associations to prevent and control surpluses through orderly distribution.

The platform contains a sweeping endorsement of the administration and of congress and pledges to maintain and continue the policies of President Coolidge.

Party Pledged to 18th Amendment.

The much-discussed topic of prohibition, which, like the farm question, proved a problem in the resolutions committee discussions, is disposed of in a law enforcement plank pledging the party and its nominees to the "observance and vigorous enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment."

Agricultural Problem Solution Pledged.

"The agricultural problem is national in scope," the farm plank declares, "and, as such, is recognized by the Republican party, which pledges its strength and energy to the solution of the same.

"Realizing that many farmers are facing problems more difficult than those which are the portion of many other basic industries, the party is anxious to aid in every way possible."

Reorganizaton of Marketing System.

The plank promises "every assistance in the reorganization of the marketing system on sounder and more economical lines and, where diversification is needed, government financial assistance during the period of transition."

The farm question also is touched upon in the tariff plank, which declares a "protective tariff is as vital to American agriculture as it is to American manufacturing."

"The Republican party," it continues, "believes that the home market, built up under the protective policy, belongs to the American farmers, and it pledges its support of legislation which will give this market to him to the full extent of his ability to supply it."

Praise for Coolidge and Mellon.

President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon are singled out for individual praise by the platform makers.

"We endorse without qualifications the record of the Coolidge administration," the platform reads. The record of the treasury is described as "unrivalled and unsurpassed."

Through a long recital of problems and developments of five years, the platform reviews with satisfaction dispositions made by the president and congress.

Other Problems Met and Solved.

Taxes, tariff, foreign policy, merchant marine, railroads and flood control pass in review as problems met and solved to the satisfaction of the party leaders.

Stabilization of the coal industry, prevention of excessive use of injunctions in labor disputes, rigid enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, and the drafting of resources in time of war are outstanding on the program the party mapped out for the next four years.

Declares For Honesty in Government.

Declaring for "honesty in government," and for the appointment of officials of unquestioned integrity, the platform deplored "the fact that any official has ever fallen from this high standard and that certain American citizens of both parties have so far forgotten their duty as citizens as to traffic in national interests for private gain."

Further Tax Reduction Promised.

Noting that practically all the war taxes have been eliminated, a pledge is given for further reductions as conditions permit. Reduction of the public debt by $6,411,000,000 in seven years is cited with a declara-

Mrs. Pankhurst, Leader, Is Dead

Was First Militant Suffragist In Efforts to Obtain Votes for Women—Started Hunger Strike When Imprisoned for Activities.

London, June 14 (AP).—One of the most picturesque figures in the woman suffrage movement, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, died this morning in a London nursing home at the age of 69. Death came after a comparatively short illness.

Mrs. Pankhurst was the first militant suffragist in efforts to obtain the vote for women, millions of whom are now enjoying the privilege of casting their ballots at the parliamentary election because of the work of her and her militant supporters. This early work was often done at great personal risk.

After founding the women's social and political union with her daughters, Christabel and Sylvia, Mrs. Pankhurst started the votes for women agitation by leading a deputation to the House of Commons to demand the vote. Many members of this body were jailed.

League Adopted Militant Methods.

Afterwards the Women's Freedom League came into being and its adherents adopted militant methods. Holloway jail was frequently used by the authorities to attempt to check the activities of the women. Mrs. Pankhurst was often in and out of that institution and her last offense brought a sentence of penal servitude. She started a hunger strike, however, and was released before the sentence was completed.

On the outbreak of the world war, Mrs. Pankhurst and other militant suffragists joined in supporting the country. They spoke from recruiting platforms and assisted cabinet ministers whose lives they had been making intolerable a few weeks previously.

Urged Further Suffrage Extension.

Suffrage was granted to women above 30 in 1918 and since that time Mrs. Pankhurst had been a supporter of those urging that it be granted to women between the ages of 21 and 30 as provided in what is known as the "flapper vote" bill.

Mrs Pankhurst visited America and lectured in behalf of her country.

Of late years, Mrs. Pankhurst had been a constitutionalist. At the time of her death she was the conservative candidate for Commons from White Chaped. She was also engaged in the peaceful occupation of running a tea room.

Her daughter, Sylvia, recently wrote expressing profound grief that her mother had deserted her old cause of progress to which Sylvia's father, Richard Marsden Pankhurst, and "all of us" had given long service.

Coolidges Start On Their Vacation

Washington, June 14 (AP).—President Coolidge was on his way today to the lakes region of northern Wisconsin, where the fishing is said to be fine.

The trip was to have started Monday night, but was delayed because of the illness of Mrs. Coolidge. Last night, however, she had recovered sufficiently to climb aboard the presidential car. But a trained nurse was included in the party's personnel.

There were nine cars on the special train in addition to the inevitable reporters and photographers, there were approximately 70 persons aboard, one of the largest parties ever to leave the Capital for a summer White House.

Cedar Game Lodge at Brule, Wis., where the president is to stay during the summer, will probably be reached late Friday. The party will detrain at Superior and will cover the last 25 miles in automobiles.

Cooling System at Orpheum.

The cooling system in the Orpheum Theatre is now being used and the management promises that patrons will always find it comfortable during shows in the hot weather. Two for one tickets are being distributed through the merchants. The shows now change three times weekly, Monday Wednesday and Friday.

New York's 90 Votes for Hoover

Decision For Unanimous Action Was Reached at a Caucus Last Evening—Wadsworth Moves Delegation Act As a Unit.

Kansas City, June 14 (AP).—New York's 90 votes will be cast as a unit for Herbert Hoover when balloting for a presidential candidate begins at the Republican National Convention today.

Decision for unanimous action was reached at a caucus of the delegation last evening after a preferential vote had showed seventy-seven delegates for Hoover, five for Charles G. Dawes, four for Charles Evans Hughes, and one for Frank O. Lowden, with three delegates absent and not recorded.

When the result of the vote was announced former Senator James W. Wadsworth, who had voted for Dawes, moved that the delegation act as a unit in support of the Commerce Secretary and that the chairman of the delegation, Charles D. Hilles, who is also national committeeman, be authorized to cast the delegation's vote.

National Committeeman Hilles was prevented by illness from attending the caucus and his place was taken by Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler of New York, Alternate-at-Large, who cast her preferential vote for Dawes. Hilles was reported to have asked that the action of the delegation be unanimous.

Those Who Voted For Dawes.

Besides Senator Wadsworth and Miss Butler, those who voted for Dawes were Cornelius N. Bliss and Thomas C. Desmond of New York and Henry J. Knupper of Buffalo. Irving D. Lipkowitz, Transit Commissioner Charles C. Lockwood and John R. Crews of Brooklyn and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of New York voted for Hughes. The lone ballot for Lowden was cast by Alexander Wolf of New York.

Prior to the taking of the vote, State Chairman George K. Morris of Amsterdam; Mrs. Charles H. Sabin of New York, national committeewomen; Wadsworth and Miss Butler were heard from. Each said that while they had favored the nomination of President Coolidge so long as there was a possibility he would accept, they would work zealously for the success of the ticket. Mrs. Sabin and Mr. Morris said they would vote for Hoover, but Wadsworth and Miss Butler declared they would vote for Dawes on the first ballot.

Morris Wanted Coolidge.

"I have not been opposed to any candidate nor have I been partisanly in favor of any candidate except President Coolidge," Morris said. "It is clearly evident that Secretary Hoover is to be nominated on the first ballot. In the interest of the party in New York state I shall cast my ballot for Hoover."

Mrs. Sabin told the delegation that it had been agreed between Mr. Hilles and Mr. Morris some time ago that if President Coolidge could not be prevailed upon to continue in office no further attempt would be made by the organization to hold the New York delegation as a unit and that upon the roll call in the caucus every delegate would be expected to express an individual choice.

"The change in the situation that has taken place since Sunday," Mrs. Sabin said, "has not affected the probability that Governor Smith will be our adversary. New York will be the pivotal state. We have only one duty and that is to put every ounce of energy back of the movement to defeat Smith."

Elegance Feature of Summer Frocks

Wide Range of Designs and Materials in Costumes for Warm Days.

Frocks for everyday wear this season are not in any sense commonplace or designed solely for utility, but like gowns of other types are appearing with a touch of elegance, writes a fashion correspondent in the New York Times. Even the sports model, which meets the requirements of many occasions, is reproduced in fabrics which ordinarily belong to elaborate costumes. Moire, particularly now that there is to be had a new washable weave; handsome brocades, satin, crepe, voile, even lace and chiffon, are now used quite commonly for the type of dress that once was classified as tailor-made.

The variants in all types are numerous, a wide range of designs and materials being used, and each dress wins its patronage not for being in a particular fashion but for the attractiveness of its neck line, the original way in which it uses the girdle or some other innovation that makes for chic and beauty. The one-piece and the two-piece that seems to be in one are the accepted style, and the coat as part of an ensemble or separate is much in evidence.

The neck line has changed many times, sometimes two or three times in one season. The untrimmed, collarless neck is still in vogue, though only the young and slim or the very courageous may venture to wear it. The uneven line, fastening at one side, has come to stay. It fits admirably the simpler type of dress, the sports frock or the plain one-piece. In some of the more elaborate dresses, lace at the neck, a fichu or scarf is drawn to one side to give the fashionable geometric line.

The kerchief in sports patterns or soft floral designs is worn for afternoon everywhere by every one. The crude examples in printed geometrics and batik that first appeared have been improved, and the latest are pretty and smart, showing a variety of patterns in stripes, checks, dots and all the new prints. In one of the most chic dance frocks shown this season, in which the dress is made of wild rose pink taffeta with a bouffant skirt and plain bodice, a large square kerchief is drawn around the shoulders and caught at one side, a scheme of draping as nonchalant as if the model was built on "sports" lines.

Winsome Combinations.

An attractive innovation this season is the combination of fabrics that match in type of pattern and in colors. This is illustrated best in the new two-piece frocks. Taffeta, crepe, wool, ninon and chiffon, made after the same pattern and colored with the same dyes, are used together most effectively. A printed pussywillow is used in a two-tiered skirt, to be worn with a blouse bodice of chiffon which is an exact replica in design. In a summery frock crepe de chine printed in a small conventional floral motif in rose and mauve on a pale gray ground ninon, in which both pattern and colors are duplicated, is used for the bodice.

In the shaded materials the same idea is presented, some new gowns being shown in which the tiered or flounced skirt of chiffon has a bodice of taffeta repeating the tints, and vice versa. This plan is carried into the details of trimming, and very lovely passementeries, embroidery and ribbons are used in some of the more elaborate gowns. This style has introduced a variation to the models in dress for summer, which is delightful when it is artistically done.

The season is opulent in fabrics, designs and colors for the everyday dress, with some of unusual beauty and practicality. Some of these that have had an immediate response are washable moire, printed crepe and indestructible voile. They are all printed in novel patterns and lovely colors, though answering to the demand for tub-fast frocks for summer.

Metal is introduced to give a modish touch to many of the summer frocks and suits. There is nothing in the least bizarre in the new manner of handling metal cloth and the various sorts of trimming used with it, such as caused many of the models of the past several seasons to blaze like military uniforms. There is just a bit of that, perhaps a line, an edge or motif here or there, which is sometimes rather startling. The edges of a flannel sports suit in lacquer green are finished with a shiny gilt binding shaped in tiny points. A sports coat de luxe of antelope hide is finished on the edges of its collar and cuffs with a line of polished brass trim as classic paper, and a brass buckle is used to fasten a strap about each cuff and on an outside belt of brown kid. On a smart one-piece frock of black crepe metal paillettes as large as a dime and graduated to a smaller size are sewn on the turn-over collar, each fastened with overstitches of floss, covering the surface entirely.

Metal for Evening.

Evening dress offers great opportunity for the use of metal, especially because of the striking contrasts that are so easy to create with it. The clinging "vampire" gown of solid spangles catching the light like dew drops on a frosty surface, such as on tulle, chiffon, the crisp taffetas, the dull-finish crepes or soft velvets.

The ever-glittering disks give the pattern a high tone. They are embroidered or sewn on to create the effect of metallic polka dots. The spangles are light in weight and rest on the sheerest stuffs without making it heavy. There are many tiny metal figures other than the ordinary round paillettes, such as triangles, squares, diamonds and various other forms.

Metal interwoven with the wool threads of the Rodier materials was one of the successes of the last autumn collections in Paris and some of the smartest models made of this combination and those, too, that were all of wool, were ornamented with appliques of polished metal.

The fancy has been repeated in the beautiful new summer materials with many charming and unusual harmonies in color. A dance frock of yellow taffeta is finished about the decollette neck with a shaped bertha of yellow tulle dotted all over with bright gilt spangles. An evening gown of black tulle made with three flounces on the skirt has three rows of silver spangles sewn along the hem of each flounce.

Dinner Gown of Taffeta.

Among the summer models of other types that are interesting because of their novelty of detail is a dinner gown of lustrous white taffeta which has an unusually bouffant skirt arranged in deep loops to form a panniet over each hip. The edges of these panniers are finished with narrow knife-plaiting of the silk, which is used also around a fichu that is drawn around the shoulders.

The full, gathered period gown is usually of one length all around, but it is given a new aspect in some models of lace in which the skirt is very long, sometimes almost touching the floor, while the underdress of satin or crepe is short. Some attractive gowns of ivory lace worn by the bridesmaids at a recent smart wedding were made with these full skirts finished in sharp points and veiling drop skirts much shorter than the dress skirt.

Ribbon is being used profusely by couturiers for trimming flounces and edges and hems of gowns. Sashes and girdles, large bows and fancy ornaments made of ribbon are among the season's successes. These are self-toned with the costume, or a brilliant contrast of subtle mingling of colors. Moire is especially smart and is shown on some of the latest evening gowns of tulle made by Lanvin. They have many layers of the material cut in points at the bottom to give a varying line, and a chic point about them, in view of the absence of other trimming, is the dashing bow with long ends of wide moire ribbon which is placed at one side of the belt.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, June 14.—A cafeteria supper and three act play entitled "Soup, Sand and Sagebrush" will be held in the Methodist Church House Wednesday, June 27. There will be further announcements concerning the treat in store for those who attend.

Tucker's Beach in Port Ewen On-the-Hudson is now open with deep water and beach bathing and good bathing houses. Electric piano, and dancing and also good parking for cars. Michael Tucker is the proprietor.

Sunday evening, after the church services in the Methodist Episcopal Church the Rev. William H. Rathbun, pastor, was presented with a purse by a few of his friends. On account of ill health and the advice of physicians, Mr. Rathbun has resigned as pastor and will give up preaching for a year. The congregation of the Methodist Episcopal Church regret losing Mr. Rathbun, as he was a wonderful preacher and already had made a great many friends by his friendly manner. They will also miss the pastor's wife as she was very active in church work. In fact they will miss the entire family and hope the change of work will greatly improve his health. His last sermon for this year will be Sunday morning, June 17. No arrangements have as yet been made for another pastor.

The men of the Reformed Church of Port Ewen very efficiently gave a bounteous supper Wednesday evening to a very large number of the ladies of the congregation in the dining hall of the church. The men are deserving of great praise as they received no help or advice from the ladies. After the supper, the Rev. Mr. Mitchell addressed the ladies.

Tell the truth all the time if you are prepared to live in this world without friends.

WOMEN FLIERS AWAIT FAVORABLE CONDITIONS.

St. John, N. F., June 14 (AP).—Two American women, each of whom aspires to be the first of her sex to fly the Atlantic, today impatiently waited favorable conditions for their starts for Europe from separate Newfoundland ports.

At Harbor Grace Miss Mabel Boll and her two male pilots, Oliver Le Boutillier and Arthur Argles, hoped for a clearing of the weather here and more favorable reports on weather over the Atlantic.

At the opposite end of the Avalon Peninsula, in Trepassey Bay, some 70 miles away, Miss Amelia Earhart, Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon were preparing for another attempt to get their monoplane Friendship off the water and start for Europe.

Service at Accord.

The Rev. J. B. Steketee will preach next Sunday at the Accord Church. Service will be held at 10:30 a. m., standard time.

FAMOUS McGEE HOMESTEAD PASSES FROM FAMILY

The ancestral home of Matthew McGee, Kingston resident, which has stood near Homer City, Indiana county, Penn., for 102 years, was sold with a tract of 100 acres surrounding it, to Alex Bennett of Indiana recently. The home of hand dressed stone, sturdily constructed, contains many valuable papers and relics from the time of 1812 when England waged war upon this country and the property became that of John Ross. It passed into the McGee family when Isabella, daughter of John Ross, married Robert McGee, son of an Irish immigrant. The farm is a rich meadow land, suitable to raising cattle and the growing of corn, for which Mr. Bennett will use it.

Matthew McGee has been a resident of Kingston for a number of years and is actively interested in the business interests of this city.

A SUPER-PARACHUTE.

A new device to make for safer flying was tried out recently in Tracy, Cal. It is a giant parachute designed to bring a whole plane safely to the ground. In making the experiment, the pilot flew to an altitude of 4,000 feet. There he cut off the engine, released the controls and pulled the cord to open the parachute. For 2,000 feet the airplane fell at an alarming speed. The parachute had not begun to open before that level was reached. The last 500 feet, it is reported, the plane fell as gently as a feather and touched the ground so lightly that the pilot was not even jarred.

"It's a success beyond my expectations," the pilot said, "and I had faith in the thing or I would have leaped before the 1,500-foot level." According to the inventor of this particular parachute, "It is practicable for use on any plane. It means absolute safety for passenger planes of any type or size. Only a few trifling improvements are needd to make it perfect." Something of the sort was bound to come. The public should rejoice if it has really come so soon. In the meantime, planes are being made safer in themselves. The parachutes will not be needed often, but they should be ready for the occasional emergency.

BEAUTY AS AN ASSET.

Is beauty an asset or a liability in the case of the business woman? This question would seem to admit of no debate, judging from the industrious employment of lip-sticks and rouge-pots, to say nothing of the careful selection of silk stockings, by the average office secretary or shop girl. And yet the story is told of a young woman employe of such arresting beauty that it upset all the men in the place and the management reluctantly concluded that she was too disturbing a presence to be tolerated.

It is interesting to learn that this subject was recently debated quite seriously in England and was taken up for discussion in a London newspaper. A girl had been proposed for appointment by the Women's Engineering Society, and "her qualifications were excellent, but the director said quite frankly that she was too good-looking for the job, and would probably upset the men in their work." But this view was not supported by a majority of the business men whose opinions were solicited, it being held by the larger number that good looks in a business woman were "not a drawback," "rather an advantage than otherwise," and "generally paid." Unfortunately for the artistic lover of beauty, but fortunately for the males in a business house, there are relatively few women workers the equal in pulchritude of Helen of Troy or of the devastatingly pretty modern maid mentioned above.

"FUSTIAN FOOLISHNESS".

One of the most curious appeals voiced in the South against the nomination of Governor Smith has been made by the Atlanta Journal. That newspaper invoked "the old Confederacy" against Smith, beseeching especially old Virginia, "mother of these commonwealths, not to turn her back upon them when they fight for the very faiths she taught them." And what is the "faith" of either the old South or the new that would be imperiled by the nomination of Governor Smith? Prohibition is supposed to be a widespread faith of the present South, but apparently that is not what gravels the Atlanta Journal, for, as quoted, it is content to hint rather vaguely at the "grave issue" as follows: "Shall, or shall not, the Democratic party be controlled by the better influences of our national life? Shall it be an instrument to tear down or build up good government? Shall the South, the party's one never-failing tower of strength, be duly recognized or ignored?"

Inevitably there was response from Virginia's leading newspaper. The Richmond Times-Dispatch requested the Atlanta Journal to cool off and state plainly what the fuss is all about, incidentally objecting to "the bad habit of feeling instead of thinking." The Times-Dispatch concedes that there are many arguments against Smith, or any other candidate for that matter, but objects that the Journal has failed to name them. Virginia will vote against Smith, it [illegible] on that long as there is any point [illegible] that party bound by subtle resistances. [illegible] rather than blindly [illegible] will have had enough of this [illegible] The sounding of war drums and the fighting of [illegible] are enough to nothing more worthwhile than throwing the South into a [illegible] or [illegible] hysteria. The preservation of a national point of view is of more concern to those who are sincere in their love for the South than the success or failure of any half-dozen candidates for the Presidency."

SURGERY VS. MEDICINE.

I read a story recently in which was recounted the desire of a young graduate in medicine to become a brilliant surgeon.

However in order to earn money with which to take a surgical course later, he begins practice, meets a young woman, falls in love and is married. The course in surgery never comes, but a family and happiness help him to forget it to a great extent, with however an occasional longing for the course in surgery. The story goes back a bit and shows how his father and grandfather also had both had the longing to take a course in surgery but had both married and continued as general practitioners.

Now this worship of surgery is not unnatural.

You see practising medicine is like defensive work, fighting the enemy who has come into your territory. But surgery is like going into the territory of the enemy and scoring your points.

However as surgery is really only a "last resort" the profession has been trying to correct conditions before they get that far, and so the X-ray, ultra violet ray, radium and other forms of treatment are being used today and most brilliant results obtained in goitre, stomach and intestinal ulcer, skin cancers, and other ailments formerly thought of only as surgical conditions.

Dr. P. Krause has made a critical analysis of 1342 cases of the severe form of goitre treated by the X-ray.

The percentage of cures was 80, that of failures 18. In 5 per cent the symptoms grew worse.

Dr. Glasafeld, in a study of 2032 cases which underwent operation reports 82 per cent of cures and a death rate of a little over 5 per cent. Thus you can see that the results obtained by the X-ray treatments are about as good as those obtained by operation.

Further, when a case is in an advanced state showing rapid loss of weight, extreme nervousness, and a very rapid heart, he makes a poor risk for operation. It is in these cases that brilliant results are obtained by the X-ray treatment. So as we think of this and of the thousands of cases of stomach and intestinal ulcers cured by straight medical treatment, that is the use of alkalies and careful dieting, and also of the wonderful cures by radium in skin cancer, and the cancers where the radium can reach, we cannot but realize that after all the field of medicine, preventive medicine, is of much greater scope than surgery, and that the day is practically at hand, when we think at least as much of the brilliant physician as we do of the brilliant surgeon.

Compounding the American Nation

Rabbi Rose Likens Its Formation to a Chemical Experiment in Address to Kingston Rotary Club.

Rabbi Morris Rose of Temple Emanuel was the speaker at the Rotary luncheon at the Governor Clinton this week. His topic was the present and future of America, which he likened to a chemical experiment, in which there is a great uproar in the test tube until the combination of elements has been completed. Then adding more of the same elements gives no apparent result, as the solution has become saturated, but the adding of other elements will bring about another uproar. By the middle of the eighteenth century America had become static, but when new elements were later added it boiled again and was full of boastfulness and noise. It was still mingling in new elements only a few years ago but the new immigration laws have practically stopped this and we are settling down into a new compound, an American nation.

Until 1914 we were regarded as a raw product, considering wealth only. This view has been changed and in the last two or three years visitors from abroad admit that we have changed and, while we are not up to the Wilson ideals, they hope that we will give something new to the world. Babylonians colonized Assyria and gave to the world a higher civilization than that of their mother country. So we hope that America, colonized from Europe, will give to the world an American nation, distinctive and better than its source.

Ahead of Other Peoples.

While our culture may not be so finished as that of the older peoples, there is one thing in which we are far ahead of them and of which we are proud and that is the political government that the founders worked out for us, with separation of church and state, equality of opportunity and other principles. They translated the highest ideals of the prophets into a form of government. Are we to forget these things and copy Europe in its bias and prejudice?

Defects in character or inability, are proper reasons to consider, but if we are to disregard these reasons and go back to religious prejudice or disagreement and permit those to enter into our government, we need to go back to the founders of our nation and learn again the lessons of tolerance and liberty that they knew so well and on which they founded this government.

Rabbi Rose was listened to with close attention and at the close of his address was heartily applauded.

President-elect Boessneck, who leaves on Saturday for Minneapolis to attend the annual convention of Rotary International, was presented with a large tag to identify him and given some good advice by President Michael.

Two large fabric concerns in New Bedford have taken the unusual step of announcing that only persons who are American citizens or who have taken out their first citizenship papers will hereafter be given work, says the Springfield Republican. To assist employees to become citizens the companies will conduct noon-hour classes at the mills and otherwise offer aid and encouragement. This effective example of Americanization work is presumably meant to solve a local problem peculiar to the New Bedford situation, where work has been slack and there has been a surplus of applicants for jobs. It would be possible only where employers of labor were in a position to adopt a highly selective policy. Americanization can be sufficiently encouraged without coercion.

MICHELIN

now sold under

1 year Guarantee

Against road hazards

THE super-quality of Michelin Tires enables us to sell them with a 1-year guarantee against blowouts, cuts, stone-bruises, under-inflation and other road hazards. We know that Michelins will give you more mileage than any other make unless they are injured by accident. But even accidents cannot rob you of full mileage, if you buy your Michelins here. You simply cannot lose.

During the past two years, reports have been received from over 3000 motorists who were testing Michelins against other makes. These motorists were picked entirely at random; therefore you may be confident that your experience will be like theirs. More than 80% of them reported that Michelins gave more mileage than the other tires they were using. Of the remainder, only a few said Michelins gave less mileage; and these few exceptions, we are sure, were due to accidents. That's where our 1-year guarantee against road-hazards comes in.

Michelin has the best tire; we have the best selling policy. The combination gives you the greatest certainty of tire satisfaction. Remember that when you need tires.

STUDEBAKER COMMANDER Tops Uniontown's famous hill at 60-mile speed

World's Champion Car
Levels Mountain Grades

OVER the top of Uniontown Hill at 60 miles an hour! That's the spectacular performance of a strictly stock model Studebaker Commander Sedan, sweeping aside decisively the best previous record of 51 miles an hour.

And that is not all! As further clinching assurance of The Commander's unmatched mountain climbing ability, it later swept up the heart-breaking, tortuous grade and over the top at 31 miles an hour, with 14 persons swarming upon its running boards (a total of 2296 pounds).

Automobile editors of Pittsburgh newspapers were passengers in The Commander and certified the exact speeds attained. Pittsburgh police certified the accuracy of the speedometer. Mayor L. S. Crawford of Uniontown and scores of spectators observed the tests before dawn on May 26.

"A Ball of Fire"

—that's what one owner calls his Commander. "A 'hill hound'—knocks the 'l' out of altitude," writes another. "If my Commander had claws it could climb trees," declares a third. When this World's Champion car can be bought for $1435 f. o. b. factory, why be content with less?

40 Miles an Hour the Day You Buy It

Studebaker engineering genius, quality materials, precision manufacture and rigid inspections, permit you to drive your Commander or any other Studebaker-built car 40 miles an hour the day you buy it—and at top speed hour after hour later on. You need change motor oil but once in 2,500 miles—and President, Commander and Dictator models require chassis lubrication only after each 2,500 miles.

Studebaker has proved the speed, endurance and power of every one of its four great lines of cars—The President Straight Eight, The Commander, The Dictator, and the Erskine Six. In four price fields—$795 to $2485—Studebaker offers you champion cars—each backed by Studebaker's 76 years of manufacturing integrity.

CHAMPIONS in 4 Price Fields

The President
$1985 to $2485
100-horsepower straight eight motor 131-inch wheelbase
80-mile speed
Holds all official records for stock closed cars, regardless of power or price, from 5 to 2000 miles and from 1 to 24 hours.

The Commander
$1435 to $1625
85 horsepower 72 miles per hour
World's Champion car—25,000 miles in less than 23,000 consecutive minutes. Nothing else on earth ever traveled so far so fast.

The Dictator
$1195 to $1395
70 horsepower 67 miles per hour
5000 miles in less than 4800 consecutive minutes—a record for stock cars priced below $1400.

Ideals of Service

MERCURY, the "messenger of the gods," possessed supernatural speed and dependability.

Today the modern Mercury is the telephone, and your ideals of good service require greater efficiency than ever before.

Speed is obviously your first requirement—speed that lets you reach the person with whom you wish to talk, in the shortest possible time.

Dependability is another—dependability, assuring you that any time, day or night, you can reach almost anyone at the millions of other telephones, anywhere in the country—talk to them easily and hear them clearly.

These requirements, combined with courteous treatment, undoubtedly form the essentials of what you expect from your telephone. In other words,—they are your ideals of service.

These ideals are ours, too. Every day sees renewed efforts to further lessen the time necessary to put through your calls. New methods for greater accuracy in giving you the number you want. Trained employees on duty twenty-four hours of the day to insure continuous service.

In short, our ideals—like yours—are for a service that "shall at all times be adequate, dependable, and satisfactory to you, the user."

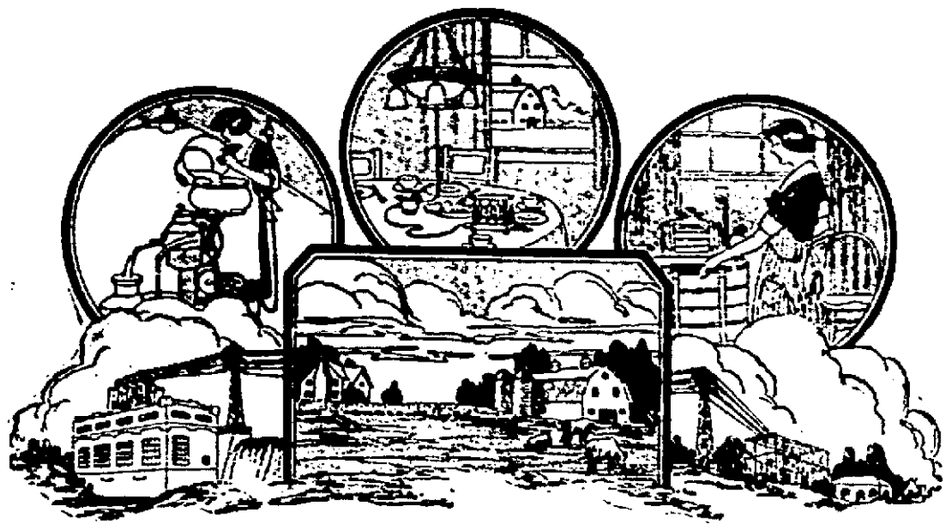
Electric Service Carries City Conveniences to the Farm



Electric service no longer is limited to thickly populated urban districts, for its long arm reaches out beyond city pavements to the villages, hamlets and farms of the country.

Thus comforts and conveniences hitherto thought unattainable, are becoming commonplace among the rural population, and year-round living in the country something to be desired rather than shunned.

Electric service is proving a great boon especially to the farms, for not only does it lighten the labor of the farmer himself but through it the toil-worn farmer's wife is receiving blessed relief from the endless drudgery that hitherto has been her lot.

And farm youth, whose eager feet once turned toward the bright lights and opportunities of the city, now finds a new and greater opportunity on the electrified farm.

In Praise of Economy

Economy is the parent of integrity, of liberty, and of ease; and the beauteous sister of temperance, of cheerfulness, and of health; and profuseness is a cruel and crafty demon that gradually involves her followers in dependence and debts; that is, fetters them with "irons that enter into their souls."—Doctor Johnson.

Do you know the price of the Packard Six?

THE PACKARD SIX is available in twelve distinguished models, priced at Detroit from $2275 to $2785

MANY people think that the Packard Six is a much higher priced car than it really is. And quite naturally so, for the name Packard has stood for fine car leadership for nearly thirty years.

Yet Packard Six prices are as low as $2275 at the factory and no higher than $2785—with twelve distinguished models to choose from.

You can actually buy a Packard Six and drive it four or five years at no greater cost than you must pay to purchase and trade in a $1500 car every two years or so. Why not buy a Packard Six? If your present car is of average value it will cover or exceed the down payment. Then your largest cash outlay at any one time will be no more than a single monthly payment.

After the first year, with your car paid for, your motoring expense will be small, and you will have the beauty, comfort and distinction of Packard transportation for several more years to come.

ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions

The Tulle Evening Frock Is Now Tailored—The Demand for Heavier Materials Continues —Variety Is Now Assured in Every Particular.

New York—One is accustomed to think of tulle frocks as being of the "fluffy ruffles" variety. Chanel decided to design frocks in opposition to the accepted method for tulle, who likes to revolutionize things, and has been most successful with her tailored models.

These models are the choice of many fashionables at this season. What is more, they are liked in colors not usually related to evening. At a recent very smart event, beige and navy frocks were high lighted, and rightly in all reports, and the fact that several of these were tulle, in the rather severely cut models, naturally did not pass unnoticed.

Ever since the effectiveness of colored lace dawned upon a world weary of pastel shades, the deeper, daytime colors have met with response for evening. Reds, running the entire gamut of the shade, but lingering in the deeper, winey range, are enjoying smart patronage, while navy and marine blues, and certain greens, with beige, honey, and caramel, are listed as evening shades.

Soberness in Evening Colors.

Gray is no longer a novelty for evening, the gray ensemble having been chosen for night wear for some time, but that it remains in favor may be mentioned in passing. Blue, both for day and night, is justifying all that the prophets predicted for it. Turquoise, both as a basic color and as an incidental one, is vastly important. There is a soberness about the evening color range that is rather disarming, and perhaps all the more effective since the omnipresent prints make our daytime frocks so sensational.

The sequin jacket, with or without long sleeves, has become a worthy successor to the evening scarf or shawl. With the exception of an occasional sequin dress, or a dress of small and almost solid beading, it is all that remains of the beaded fad. The jackets in question enjoyed a vogue last winter at Paris night clubs, and seems on the road to duplicating that success here.

Demand for Heavier Fabrics.

Jenny's interesting version of the cape, a garment with one sleeve, is another important addition to a long list of lovely evening things. These include satin and moire wraps, either without fur or collared luxuriously in silver, blue, or white fox. Evening wraps naturally conform to the longer and fuller silhouette peculiar to the average evening gown, and are expected to acknowledge the gown in color as well.

A good deal has been written concerning the new demand for heavier fabrics for evening. Along this line may be mentioned the demand for somewhat heavier daytime fabrics as well. Tweeds, both for separate coats and for ensembles, are unrivaled. Woolen dresses, light weight, to be sure, but woolen dresses for all that, are in brisk demand by the traveler and the business woman, as well as by the woman whose wardrobe is extensive enough to include all her heart desires, if indeed any wardrobe could be stretched to such proportions.

Ballibuntl Registers.

In millinery one finds a divided interest between straws of a certain type and felts. Ballibuntl deserves all the mention it receives, for many are wearing it and all shops are advertising this at the expense of other straws. The medium-size hat has found many admirers, and seems to be liked better than the extremely large one, even with summer at hand.

Whether one has hat, coat, or dress in mind, or is speculating merely on the relative value of this material or that, it remains true that there is more variety than formerly. This indicates that one has more opportunity to dress expressively, and that the summer will be more interesting sartorially.

Black Smart for Afternoon Frocks

Satin, Crepe, Georgette, Velvet, Classed Among Favored Materials.

Black satin, black crepe, black georgette and black velvet all take their places in the mid-season collection of dresses that are extremely smart. There is chic to the black afternoon dress that is not to be found in any other color. For teas and other occasions it is most essential to possess at least one frock of formal appeal.

A silhouette that has always been popular with smartly dressed women is the princess line, which had its origin in the Victorian era. Today, modernized and expressing the height of sartorial simplicity, it is to be seen in frocks of the newest mode.

Frocks of the princess type are made simply, with long, slender and slightly molded lines and in general are restrained in their feeling.

Fitted lines at the waist find themselves expanding into a gentle flare below the hips. Sometimes a sunburst flare outline is achieved by plaited panels, tiered effects and other novel means of accentuating a full line below the hips.

The waists in the princess frocks are bound to be simple with a fitted silhouette. Sleeves may vary with puffed effects at the bottom, or may preserve a severe simplicity from shoulder to wrist.

Loretta Young, the "movie" star, whose extreme slenderness is ideally suited to the princess silhouette, wears an exceptionally chic afternoon costume in the motion picture, "Her Wild Oat." It expresses the mid-season mode in its simple lines and also shows the continued popularity of black for the daytime dress. It is of black crepe satin simply designed with a white collar and long, unevenly outlined folds down the side of the dress. This alone forms an effective decoration and is in keeping with the simplicity which the frock expresses.

Frock of Black Is Popular for Daytime Occasions.

Beads on Collarettes; Also Used for Hand Bags

One of the main features of the Brussels shops is the collarette in beads. Sometimes it is made in black jet, in gold or silver beads or in mixtures of various kinds, gold and silver beads being used together. Ribbon and beads are often mingled, black corded ribbon being used in this case.

These collarettes have long been on the market. A new model is the colored-bead collarette, patterns being evolved with a variety of hues. Saxe blue and "dull" white are mingled, in opaque beads, crude yellows are seen, with whites, porcelain beads in reds and blues and arranged with yellows, making a neutral tint in the distance, the beads being very small.

These porcelain beads, tubes cut off without any rounding or molding, almost rough in their final state, are also used for hand bags, making an impression of roughness and unfinishedness, that is altogether pleasing.

New Paris Millinery Aids Feminine Wiles

Parisian milliners seem determined to lift headgear out of the rut of conventionalism into which it has fallen.

New hats show various trick devices for making millinery less dull. If hats cannot actually claim to be trimmed, at least Paris no longer insists that there be a reason for every line and bit of decoration.

One manifestation of this trend is the stick-up ends that adorn so many new hats. Rabbit-ears is the name Paris has given the small upstanding bits of twisted felt, or small feather ornaments. Sometimes the rabbit-ears are placed right in front. Oftener, however, they are at the side front, half-way up the crown.

"Never-fail" Recipe for Crushed Strawberry Jam

Once you have tried the new short-boil method of making jams and jellies with Certo you will discard the old, tedious, uncertain way as an out-of-date piece of kitchen drudgery.

Ten glasses of the most delicious Strawberry Jam can be made by the following recipe quickly, easily and with perfect results every time.

Crush about 2 quarts of berries one layer at a time so that each berry is actually crushed or broken up to a pulp. This allows fruit to quickly absorb the sugar during the short boil, and prevents fruit rising to the top or floating. Best results are obtained by running berries through a food chopper. Measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed berries into a large kettle, add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard from 1 to 2 minutes, remove from fire and stir in ½ cup Certo. Skim and stir constantly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire to cool slightly, which prevents fruit floating. Then pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot paraffin wax.

Certo is the natural jellying substance which has been extracted from fruit, refined and bottled so that perfect jams and jellies can be made without long boiling.

Recommended by a famous expert in cookery

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal, Miss Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor, Woman's Home Companion, says—

"I strongly advise all housewives to make all their jams and jellies with Certo because: It's easier—Takes only one minute's boiling. Tastes better—No flavor boiled away. Better color—Not darkened by long boiling. No worry—Never fails to set. It's economical—Fifty per cent more from given amount of fruit and no waste from failures."

Get Certo today from your grocer. With each bottle comes a complete book of recipes for making better looking, better flavored jams and jellies the quick, easy Certo way.

Now I get much whiter washes this easy scrubless way...

WASHDAY isn't like washday any more, since I changed to Rinso. No scrubbing, no boiling, no fuss or mess in the kitchen at all. And I'm not all tired out at the end of the day, either.

For with Rinso, all I do is soak the wash and rinse it! In the thick, creamy Rinso suds, dirt and stains float off without help. Even grimy cuffs and edges come snowy with little or no rubbing.

My hands don't have that washday look any more. And I notice that clothes last longer, too—for the safe, gentle Rinso way keeps them from being scrubbed threadbare.

I think every woman should keep Rinso handy. It washes clothes the whitest white I ever saw. Ask your grocer for it.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, and to accept which ever bid may, in the judgment of the Commissioners, be most advantageous to the City, or to re-advertise, or take any other action relative thereto which may seem to them right and proper.

Under Contract "F", alternative bids will be received on about 15,000 feet of reinforced concrete pipe, and cast-iron pipe; and under Contract "G", alternative bids will be taken on about 17,000 feet of either reinforced-concrete cylinder pipe or cast-iron pipe or steel pipe. At the beginning of Contract "F" and at the end of Contract "G", cast-iron pipes with Universal joints will be used. Both Contracts include blow-offs and other appurtenant structures. Separate tenders must be made for each type of pipe in Contracts "F" and "G". Separate check must accompany each tender.

No borings or test pits have been made along the line of the work. Bidders shall make explorations necessary to satisfy themselves as to the nature of the material and the undergrown conditions.

CERTIFIED CHECKS. Contract "F" must be accompanied by a certified check for $7,000 and Contract "G" by a check for $7,000, made payable to the Board of Water Commissioners, City of Kingston. The checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them upon the awarding of the contract. In case of failure to sign the contract, the certified check accompanying the bid accepted shall be retained by the Board of Water Commissioners as liquidated damages for such failure.

EXECUTION OF CONTRACT AND BOND. The bidder whose proposal is accepted will be required to enter into a contract within five days thereafter, giving a surety company bond acceptable to the Board of Water Commissioners for an amount equal to fifty per cent (50%) of the amount of the total of his bid. His certified check will be returned to him upon the signing of his contract.

Electric Shock Fatal to Man

A stranger in the town of Marlborough, supposed to be Frank Fendall of Camden, N. J., was electrocuted Tuesday night in the transformer house of the New York Trap Rock Company at Cedarcliff. Coroner George Sulter of Marlborough, who investigated the case believes it likely that the man sought death when he entered the building, because no other motive seems to explain his prowling about the dangerous wiring and his crawling under the protective screen.

The man, who came to Marlborough to pick berries, entered the transformer house and broke through the heavy screen which guards the apparatus. He may have touched the higher tension line or the secondary circuit, either carrying enough voltage to cause death.

The coroner found in the spectacle case in the man's clothing a note asking that in case of death word be sent to Mrs. Caroline Stratton at 1212 Octagon road, Camden, N. J.

Fendall had visited Marlborough during the berry-picking season for several years. He was lame, walking with the aid of a crutch.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, June 14.—There will be no preaching service here in the M. E. Church Sunday night, June 17, as the Rev. O. Rice is away to summer school. Remember the celebration at Samsonville July 4. It is a good opportunity for old schoolmates to meet and there is plenty of parking space for autos.

Mrs. W. G. Moore and daughter, G. McLane, visited Mrs. Noah Barringer on Sunday.

The oil truck from High Falls delivered oil and gas to some of its customers on Monday.

Counteracting Gases

Dangerous gases that are likely to explode in tunnels, mine shafts and other confined places are being counteracted by spraying the interiors with mineral dust, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The treatment does not entirely eliminate danger, but, if applied in time, it is said to be effective in about 90 per cent of the cases. The dust eliminates hazardous accumulations of the gas and is spread from a motor-driven blower.

Boyology Course Banquet Tonight

Diplomas Will be Awarded Following Dinner at McCabe's Restaurant—Wyland Gives Interesting and Instructive Talk.

The talk given by Ray O. Wyland, head of the church relations department and the training department of the Boy Scouts of America, proved very pleasing and more interesting than Joseph D. Becker, who is conducting the Boyology course under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, forecast in introducing the speaker at the American Legion Memorial Building Wednesday night. He gave the three major points upon which scouting is based and illustrated them in an interesting manner.

A number of tickets for the banquet to be held this evening at 7:15 in McCabe Restaurant, Wall street, were sold Wednesday night. It is expected that approximately 100 will attend. At the banquet diplomas will be presented to the men who took the course.

Aside from the instructive talk given by Wyland, Mr. Becker told the men about boys' clubs. He also taught the attendants some new games, which pleased the audience that crowded the Legion building hall. The Wednesday night meeting was held in the American Legion hall because the graduating exercises of the Benedictine Hospital Nurses' Training School were held in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The three reasons for the Boy Scout organization, Mr. Wyland said, are that it offers wholesome and instructive attractions to the boys of America, men are interested in it for the good that it accomplishes in making future useful citizens and the church and other organizations are concerned much because it tends to promote brotherhood and better understanding.

To illustrate his statements Mr. Wyland reminded the men that Scouts are taught to rely on themselves and in the various crafts taught are given an opportunity for self expression and a chance to pick a life vocation. Also the boys are taught that cooperation is the big thing in the making of success. Men are interested in Scouting because it gives their sons and their companions real red-blooded Americans with the interest of the country at heart. It teaches the boys to live right morally and gives them a broader understanding of one another. Boys idealize men at the age when Scouting appeals to them and Scout leaders are generally the sort of men that have the good qualities for the proper appeal. The church is interested because a better understanding of the various creeds is brought about. Understanding is education and a race of men who understand always make the high type of citizens.

In closing Mr. Wyland said he hoped every man present would take an interest in scouting in order to make America an ideal place for every man with a white heart.

Hercules Take Close Game

Hercules Hand Apollos First Defeat of Season—McGrath's Hit Scored Winning Run—It Was Also the Hercules' First Victory.

With the score tied at 7-all Shorty McGrath crashed a two bagger to center field in a last minute rally, and it enabled the Hercules to hand the Apollos their first reverse of the season by a 8-7 score at the Athletic field Wednesday evening. It also marked the Hercules' first victory.

Ira Maurer was on second base at the time McGrath hit and he crossed the rubber with the winning run.

It looked like an easy victory for the Apollos when they scored four runs in the first inning and two in the second, giving them a 6-0 lead. Art Merritt, who was pitching for the Apollos, could not silence the Hercules' bats and they kept creeping up on the Apollos, while Chick Maurer, Hercules' pitcher, seemed to grow stronger as the game progressed.

Stubby Jordan, who garnered three hits for his evening's work at bat, gave the Apollos a start in the first inning with a single to left field. Merritt walked and Glaser hit a single to center field, scoring Jordan. Bush dropped Crispell's fly and Merritt scored. Glaser went home on Van Buren's hit to left field, and Crispell tallied on Petersen's error.

Errors by Koltz and Petersen and a two bagger by Crispell gave the Apollos two more runs in the second inning.

The Hercules done a little scoring themselves in their half of the second. Ira Maurer and McGrath were given free transportation to first base. Maurer scored on Avery's single, and Koltz hit for two bases, sending Petersen and Avery home.

In the fifth inning the boys from the powder mills tied the score. Hertica was safe on Jordan's error, Bush walked and Chick Maurer singled, scoring Hertica. Ira Maurer scored Bush and Chick Maurer with a hit to left field.

The Apollos forged ahead in the sixth, scoring one run. Jordan singled, stole second and scored on Koltz's error. The last inning found Chick Maurer in a tight squeeze. Crispell was safe at first when Dunbar, who replaced Koltz, fumbled his grounder. Van Buren singled and two runners were on the sacks with no out. Hyatt pop flied to Ira Maurer for the first out. Chick Maurer took care of Collins by fanning him. He then walked Short, filling the bases, but brought the inning to a close without any scoring when he made Coutant strike out.

With the score 7-6 against them the Hercules came to bat for their last time. Chick Maurer singled to center field to start the inning. Ira was safe when Hyatt erred. Then Petersen hit a double and Chick Maurer scored the tying run. It was up to McGrath to do something and he did. He drove a two bagger to center field and the Hercules won their first game.

The score:

Apollos.

Tagging Major League Bases

By William J. Chipman

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Cincinnati bubble may burst, but the suspicion in New York is that any such bursting probably will occur right in the faces of the Giants—if, indeed, it has not already occurred. John McGraw is inclined to the belief that the Reds may have used bricks in their assault on his unsuspecting help through the last four days.

The Cincinnati host escaped to the easier life of Philadelphia today with three Giant scalps to show for four engagements at the Polo Grounds. The Rhinelanders pulled out yesterday's game, 5 to 3, in the tenth after permitting the Giants to climb into a tie with two runs in the eighth. The game in all its aspects was a pitchers' battle between Jack Hendricks and John McGraw, with Jack flashing four against only three for John.

Jakie May, who shut out the Giants, 3 to 0, on Sunday, failed in an iron-man role, and Carl Mays and Ray Kolp appeared briefly while the big New York eighth was at its height. Eppa Rixey quieted the disturbance and remained to win when the Reds prodded Dutch Henry for two runs in the tenth.

At Boston Rogers Hornsby drew into the home run leadership of the National League by clubbing his thirteenth, and raised his personal batting figure to .418, but the Cardinals ran away with the ball game, 11 to 8. The Back Bay home run epidemic continued unchecked, with Chick Hafey, Jim Bottomley, Frank Frisch and Taylor Douthit of the Cardinals joining Hornsby in a spree. Hafey went so far as to hit two, but each of the others was satisfied with one.

Charley Rigler probably escaped a reversal by the league head when Brooklyn won from the Cubs at Ebbets Field, 7 to 2. With the Robins leading, 5 to 1, in the fifth, Bressler was on first with one out. Del Bissonette raised a foul which Hartnett juggled three times and then caught. Bressler, acting within his rights, tagged up and raced for second the moment the ball first touched the catcher's glove.

Umpire Hart at first base ruled Bressler out when Hartnett threw to Grimm, but Umpire Jordan at third caused Hart to reverse the ruling. Rigler, the umpire-in-chief, then changed the decision back again, and Bressler was officially but incorrectly out.

The Phillies ended the spurt of the Pirates by rallying against Burleigh Grimes in the ninth for three runs which won, 4 to 3. Art Jahn, recent Giant, broke up the game with a double.

The American League situation remained much the same. The Yankees outlasted the White Sox to win, 8 to 6, in a game notable for the absence of home runs. Waite Hoyt went the route and worked hard for his eighth victory of the season. Ted Lyons survived a savage Yankee attack in the first, and also pitched the full game.

Old Jack Quinn flashed back into form at Detroit, and the Athletics won easily, 12 to 5. The Tigers probably would not have had the five if the Athletics had had any fewer than a dozen.

Washington rallied in the ninth at Cleveland, but fell just short enough to enable the Indians to win, 8 to 7, on some good pitching by Shaute. Much better pitching than the score indicates. Horace Lisenbee was knocked out by the Indians.

The St. Louis Browns had to go ten innings to nose out the Red Sox, 9 to 8, in a game marked by six home runs in three innings. The circuit blows were evenly divided between the two clubs, with a pair going to Dudley Brannon, St. Louis second baseman, who raised his season's total to six.

Two Games For Pan-Ams

Bill McNally's Pan-Am baseball team is whipping into shape for two hard contests over the week end. The oilmen will go to Newburgh Saturday where they will oppose the Cardinals. Sunday at 3 p. m. the Philmont nine will meet the Pan-Ams at Pan-Am Park on the Saugerties road.

The local team counts much on licking the Cardinals to put themselves in shape for the Philmont club. This aggregation will come to Pan-Am Park highly recommended and undoubtedly will please a large gathering of fans. The Pan-Ams will endeavor to put up one of the best bids for the game that the team has made this season.

Carpenter and O'Neil will form the battery for the oilmen against Philmont here Sunday. Celuch and McGuire will be used Saturday against the Cardinals at Newburgh.

The Philmont team will line up as follows:

G. Miller, p.; F. Russell, p.; Herrick, c.; C. Miller 1b.; Horton, 2b.; Early, ss.; Van Kingsburgh, 3 b.; Hover, cf.; Genhardt, rf.; Proper, lf.

LATSO WINS FROM LOMSKI ON FOUL

New York, June 14 (AP).—Victory over a light heavyweight, Leo Lomski, the smiling assassin from Aberdeen, Wash., appeared today to have clinched for Pete Latso, former welterweight champion, another shot at his arch rival, Mickey Walker, king of the middleweights.

Reeling about the ring under a barrage of left and right hooks that seemed about to finish him any moment, Lomski drove a full right deep into Latso's groin in the sixth round of a ten round match at Ebbets Field last night and was promptly disqualified for fouling. Lomski was scheduled to battle Walker in a non-title ten round go in the big National League ball park July 4.

Columbias Bow To Clermonts

The third and fourth innings of the Clermont-Columbia game at Hasbrouck Park Wednesday night proved the harvest period for the Clermonts, who took the tilt by a 4-3 score. Teetsel allowed the Clermonts to score three runs in the third and one in the fourth, which kept them in the lead throughout the rest of the contest.

The Columbias go to Ken Best, who hurled his first game for the Clermonts Wednesday, for three hits and scored two runs in the second inning. Their last tally was registered in the fifth. Best was touched for eight hits in all, exceeding Teetsel's record by one.

The Columbia team came through with six errors, while the Clermonts supported Best by errorless playing.

Sunday the Clermonts will go to Fleischmanns, where they will stack up against the representatives of that community. A bus will leave Flick's store, corner of Broadway and Newkirk avenue at 1 p. m.

The score:

Hospital Nurses Receive Diplomes

depleted within the past two years, and we hold in honored memory the names of Dr. Connelly, Dr. Norwood, Dr. Gillette and Dr. H. D. E. Loughran.

One of the brightest and most promising members of the present graduating class, Miss Natalie E. Schultze, died suddenly, at her home, February 19, 1928, while on a short leave of absence. The fact that Miss Schultze had achieved such a high standard of development, in general, made her untimely going the more tragic. Her sunny disposition and pleasing personality endeared her to patients, doctors, and school mates alike. She is greatly missed in our circle and our sympathies go out to her parents, especially since she was an only child. In her memory, the first floor sitting room has been beautifully furnished by her parents and Mrs. Chandler. This is a lovely tribute to a charming girl, a diligent student and a sympathetic nurse.

We wish to express to the members of the Executive Committee our appreciation of the broadminded, understanding consideration they have given to all matters placed before them and to all the members of the Board of Managers our thanks for hearty cooperation and help in the work of the school. The members of the Building Committee have earned the gratitude of every member of the school for the very delightful living accommodations we are now enjoying.

The members of our Ladies' Auxiliary contributed in no small part toward this end. To them we are indebted for the pretty hand sewn curtains on all three buildings; the measuring, cutting and sewing of these required much painstaking effort. We value the interest shown on the part of the members in the welfare of the students and we thank them each one.

To our Medical Staff we are most grateful for the conscientious care given the nurses during illness, and for the cooperation shown in their willingness to give time and talent in lecture work.

For loyal support in furthering the interests of the school and hospital we express our thanks to our instructor, our supervisors and our students.

We congratulate the members of the 1928 Graduating Class and join with Miss Bailey, Secretary of the N. Y. State Board of Nurse Examiners, and with Miss French, our school inspector, in wishing them all success and happiness in their chosen fields.

Respectfully submitted,
JESSIE P. ALLEN,
Principal.

Following Miss Allan's highly appreciated report Mrs. Henry Millonig favored the audience with a brilliant piano rendition of "Ballade," by Chopin.

Miss Laurence's Address.

Mr. Flemming was felicitous in his introduction of the speaker of the evening, Miss E. A. Laurence, president of the New York State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, herself a trained nurse, the head of a school of training for nurses.

Miss Laurence, possessed of a charming personality, gave a memorable talk to the graduates. Looking over the years of her experience in the profession of nursing, which included many graduations, Miss Laurence said she found the addresses on such occasions to be practically divided into two groups. The first group, of long-ago speakers, emphasized loyalty to training school, to physicians, to patients, etc., and offered much good advice. The second group, while not exactly giving advice, told the graduates what was expected from them from many angles. Today the nursing profession has entered a new era. The code of ethics for the nurse is exactly the code of ethics that should belong to every right-minded individual. Living by the Golden Rule, aspiring to do what is right, assuming and accepting responsibility should be characteristics of all of us. Right living and right thinking should enter into the very fibre of any nurse and any individual, or they will be seriously handicapped. Having emerged from their dreams of the future into the actuality of those dreams come true, the speaker told the graduates that they were now ready to live out their own ideals, to solve their own problems and to help others solve their problems.

Value of Little Things.

Miss Laurence gave one most unusual but exceedingly valuable piece of advice. It was that each one should learn to weigh the significance of the small things, the daily little things of life, and take note of how they might affect the building up of life five or ten years hence, and deal with them as seemed best, or let them go. She also advocated the choosing of an avocation as well as a vocation in life—interest in art, music, travel, sports, etc., lest their lives become too narrowed. Only in their choosing she urged the choice of whatever would strenghten and broaden their very being and outlook on life.

Miss Laurence wondered if the girls had ever thought much about words. She showed how from actions there had grown up a need for every word in use. Words were invented to express things done, thoughts, facts.

Alphabet of Right Living.

Among cheerful words the speaker found "ambition," which she called the father of "achievement," and "diligence," the mother of "achievement," both stimulating to success. She said she would offer to the graduates a little bundle of words which would be a sort of alphabet of right living. The bundle included, the following: ambition, bravery, character, diligence, economy, foresight, graciousness, harmony, impartiality, justice, kindliness, loyalty, modesty, nobility, opportunity, prudence, quality, righteousness, skill, truth, understanding, veracity, watchfulness, zeal. These were words to live by, to work by if they were bound together in love and woven into the texture of one's being. By so doing success would come to the graduates, they would achieve.

Miss Laurence closed with a strange and beautiful story. An old woman had travelled far carrying two strange burdens: in the one hand a torch of fire and in the other a cup of water. She wandered through many strange lands in search of perfection, looking for ideals. Finally a man said to her, "O woman, why do you carry such a strange burden?" She replied, "I carry water to put out the fires of hell. I carry fire to destroy heaven in order that people may learn to do good not because of fear of hell and its punishments nor for the rewards of heaven, but for the very love of doing good."

Pledge Administered to Nurses.

The Florence Nightingale Pledge was then administered to the graduates by Miss Allan.

Mr. Flemming's Address.

Harry H. Flemming, the treasurer, who presided, in presenting diplomas to the graduates, said in part:

The present commencement season marks the completion of the new nurses' dormitory, the new and enlarged hospital unit and brings to the people of the city and surrounding community facilities far in advance of that enjoyed by many cities of our class and excelled by no other.

The generous contributions of the people gave us the basis for this enlarged plant, and inspired in the management a new faith in the future of the City of Kingston Hospital. Our campaign for $200,000 was successful, and with the remaining payments, one due June 30, and the final one December 30, in hand, the financial program will be carried through fully up to the expectations of those in charge. This all means the expenditure of half a million dollars in new construction and equipment, and a property of the value approximately $700,000. The mortgage indebtedness will be $200,000, which it is anticipated will be reduced by a substantial sum each year.

In briefly reviewing our recent progress we cannot and would not forget the part that was taken in it all by our former president, Hon. James A. Betts. Through years of experience he had accumulated a fund of knowledge that was of inestimable value in the work of the past few years. His devotion to the hospital was born of an intense interest in the service of those to whom it ministered and he was willing and eager at all times to render any service within his power in the advancement of the cause.

In presenting to you young ladies of the graduating class the evidence of the successful termination of your course of training let me remind you that as you go forth to your life work you go, whether conscious of the fact or not, as a representative of the City of Kingston Hospital. Your achievement will reflect credit upon it. Your conscientious, thoughtful and unselfish service will add lustre to its fame, and our desire is that you shall carry as your highest aim the spirit of true service to mankind as taught by the Great Master, and that this commencement is in fact but the beginning of a life of great usefulness for each one.

Miss Flynn Gives Valedictory.

The Valedictory was given in naive and charming manner by Miss Anna Marie Flynn, who counted the fine career of nursing as having no really insurmountable difficulties, but as offering wonderful opportunities for splendid work and the helping of humanity in its elemental needs—in other words caring for a fellow in distress. Miss Flynn, briefly but vividly told of the daily life of the nurse and then after thanking Miss Allan, the board of managers, the Ladies' Auxiliary, the staff, for all their helpfulness, patience and encouragement, promised Mr. Flemming that the graduates would do their best to live up to their oath and be a credit to their training school.

The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. W. Poyntell Kemper.

REV. A. V. S. WALLACE GRANTED DOCTORATE IN DIVINITY

The Rev. Adrian V. S. Wallace of the Flatbush Reformed Church was granted Monday a Doctorate in Divinity by Union College, the alma mater of his father and grandfather as well as his own.

His career as an undergraduate in his academic course, it is said, was distinguished by spartan devotion to duty. The only man to surpass him in the matter of rank granted by faculty members was a man who later gained international fame as a scholar, writing the equivalent of 150 pages of Webster's dictionary, editor of one of the leading text books on ophthalmology, president of the American Ophthalmological Society and winner of the society's medal for research. This one man to outdo the Rev. Mr. Wallace could converse in Latin.

Classmates of Dr. Wallace will rejoice in his acquisition of the degree as a mark of appreciation of his merit as a vicar of Christ, a most exemplary citizen and exemplary military officer and one whose humane character is evinced by his words and deeds. Those who have enjoyed his pastoral leadership will be pleased to know his distinguished worth has again been recognized.

'Spose You Try It

What is half of twelve? Why, any child of four can answer that. Six, of course. A bright young correspondent, by using Roman numerals, asserts that the answer is seven, that half of 12 is 7, and this is how he gets that way: XII is 12, he says. Now draw a horizontal line cutting XII exactly in half and you get VII, which is 7, he says. Now, what do you know about that? —Fall River Herald-News.

East Kingston Wins Flag Test

The annual American Legion flag code contest, held this year in the rural schools instead of in Kingston schools, resulted in a victory for the East Kingston School, according to the announcement made today by Raymond H. Woodard, chairman of the committee on Americanism and Education of Kingston Post. The East Kingston school attained an average of 97½ percent in the examination on the flag code. Eddyville made a splendid record by getting an average of 96 percent. The results follow:

|---|---|
| East Kingston | 97½ % |
| Eddyville | 96 % |
| Rosendale | 89½ % |
| Sawkill | 88½ % |
| Port Ewen | 66½ % |

Several other schools surrounding Kingston were invited to take part in the flag code work, but declined.

The following pupils obtained 100 percent in the examination:

East Kingston—Paul Astolas, Beatrice Durling, Collette Hart, Albert Marz, Louis Natale, Frank Nerone, Claude Palen, Joseph Ramundo, Stephen Szekenes, Joseph Tiano, James Winslow.

Eddyville—Alva Claton, Lucille Elston, Mary Eustice, Gladys Harvey, Helen Kahlort, Leo Kennedy, Paul Meyer, Mildred Weinich.

Rosendale—Marie Delaney.

The examination consisted of ten questions on how to display and use the flag. This is the first time the American Legion has invited the cooperation of the rural schools and Mr. Woodard wishes to thank the school authorities for their splendid work.

The prize flag will be presented by the American Legion to the winner at East Kingston on Friday, at 10:30 a. m., at a special assembly of the school.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 14 (AP).—The rally in stock prices, which set in yesterday, encountered strong resistance late today after prices had been marked up 1 to 10 points. Selling came from two sources: The renewed short selling of "Bear" Traders, and profit-taking on the part of traders who bought stocks during Tuesday's drastic reaction. Many of the early gains were cut down and in some cases wiped out.

Call money held steady at 6 per cent although that rate was again shaded in the "outside market."

Easier credit conditions are looked for after the mid-month tax, dividend and interest payments are out of the way. Preliminary estimates of the decrease in Federal Reserve Brokers' loans to be announced after the close of the market range from $160,000,000 to $200,000,000.

Early buying orders were distributed over a broad list with the oil, copper, gas, chain store, food, drug and farm implement issues making the best showing. Predictions of an early increase in mid-continent crude prices and the announcement that the Fisher Brothers had acquired a large block of Texas Corporation common stock stimulated accumulation of the oil shares. Coppers responded to the reduced volume of surplus stocks and the maintenance of relatively firm commodity prices.

Rossia insurance scored 10½ points, Adams Express 10, American Railways Express 8, Curtiss Aeroplane 7½, Atlantic Refining 7⅝ and Radio, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, Wright Aeronautical and Collins & Aikman. Gimbel Brothers responded to reports of expanding earnings by climbing more than 3 points to a new record high at 59.

JUST HUMANS
By Gene Carr

"OH, MAMMA, COME LOOK AT TH' BIRDS MENDIN' THEIR NESTS!"

TARDY
By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WITH fumbling hands and awkward feet
A youngster slips into his seat,
Ashamed the teacher's look to meet.

There is a panic in his heart,
But not of fear—but just to start
The day not having done his part.

And something of rebellion, too.
"Of course, she'll blame it all on you,
And think you played. It isn't true."

Ah, what's the use of being good?
He ran the fastest that he could.
She won't believe him. No one would.

And so he stumbles through the day,
And stutters things he has to say,
And wishes he could run away.

But Mother had to telephone,
Mother had matters of her own,
And so he had to dress alone.

Maybe he was a little slow,
That's why he's late. Well, maybe so,
He says, but how was he to know?

Mother had duties to be done,
And quite forgot about her son.
"My goodness! Here's you cap. Now run!"

But when the children stand in line,
If some one isn't there at nine,
I hope the fault is never mine.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS
By H. IRVING KING

THE PLANTAIN

THAT pestiferous weed, the plantain, which people have to dig out of their lawns and dooryards is anything but a romantic or mystic plant in appearance and yet it figures prominently in myth and superstition. In this country it appears in folk-medicine as a cure for bee stings and something to "draw out poison" from any wound or sore.

The Indians call it white man's foot for with the white man the plantain came to this country as it has traveled in his company to all parts of the earth. A native of temperate Asia and Europe the weed has wandered always with the white man and never appears where he is not or has not been. This can be accounted for, of course, without calling upon the supernatural. The insidious seed may be accidentally carried abroad just as the Jimsonweed came to this country in a load of discharged ballast from British ships. But to the unreflecting there is something rather uncanny in the way in which the plantain follows the white man's footsteps. The name itself is from "planin," meaning the sole of the foot. In this country and England the plantain is sometimes called waybread and the fact that it so persistently haunts the tracks of man is accounted for by an old legend of German origin to the effect that it was formerly a maiden who, after long waiting in vain by the wayside for her lover, was changed into this weed. And in this form she has ever since haunted the footsteps of men looking for the recreant one. In this ancient legend we see again the idea of primitive man of a metamorphosis by which animal and vegetable forms were changed the one into the other. To those who regarded mankind as descended from the oak or the ash it seemed quite natural that a disconsolate maiden should be changed into a plantain.

Platform Pledges Farmers Practical Aid in Marketing

tion that the party will continue to reduce the debt.

Foreign Policy Endorsed.

The policy of the administration in Nicaragua and China is endorsed, with the assertion that American naval and military forces are being used in these countries to protect American lives and interests.

The platform approves the foreign policy of the president generally, making special reference to the course followed in the settlement of foreign debts. It also deems as satisfactory the solution of war claims, and reaffirms its opposition to membership in the League of Nations. It calls attention, however, to a policy of cooperation in "the humanitarian and technical work" of the League.

1922 Tariff Act Justified.

The tariff act of 1922 is declared to have justified itself in the expansion of foreign trade.

"The present tariff law has not hampered the natural growth in the exportation of the products of American agriculture, industry and mining, nor has it restricted the importation of foreign commodities which this country can utilize without jeopardizing its economic structure," the platform says.

Stabilize Coal Industry.

The government should make every effort to aid the coal industry by removing restrictions hampering its development, it declares, adding that the party is anxious to assist in any feasible plan for the stabilization of the industry which would work with justice to the miners, consumers and producers.

Freedom In Wage Contracts.

It is asserted that American labor enjoyed the highest wage and living standard in the world, and freedom in wage contracts and the right of collective bargaining is the party's pledge to the wage earner. A belief that the injunctive cudgel has been wielded too freely in labor disputes and has "given rise to a serious question for legislation," is expressed.

The Mississippi Emergency.

Praising the administration for meeting the Mississippi flood emergency in such a manner that "a great loss of life was prevented," the platform points to passage by congress of a bill authorizing $325,000,000 for the construction of works to prevent a recurrence.

Draft Resources In War Time.

The party goes on record in favor of the drafting of every resource "which may be necessary to the common defense in time of war, assuring to the country a plan in advance for the drafting of industrial commodities, materials, properties and services, whether owned or controlled by private citizens."

Honest Elections Promised.

The [illegible] party is declared as having [illegible] honest and [illegible] expenses carefully [illegible] while a complete [illegible] will [illegible] endeavor [illegible] honest elections and [illegible] honest [illegible] of the [illegible].

General Wood charged the subject, but afterward, as the reporter was about to go he had a story.

"What we are fighting for," he said, "is what makes our lights. We must have our lights, so to speak.

"The Kilocycle fighting is the greatest fighting in the world. He will almost every big race; some of them he has won three or four times over. He's a fighting fool, you know.

"When during the war Joe enlisted in a cavalry regiment, and they sent him to a riding school at the Curragh in Ireland to be trained.

"When he mounted his horse at the Curragh school the riding master said to him:

"'Have you ever ridden before?'

"'Yes, once or twice,' said Joe.

"'Yes,' said the riding master, with a disgusted laugh, 'on a donkey at the zoo, I guess. Why, you've got the worst seat on a horse I ever saw in my life.'"

Decree of Authority Subject to Discount

The late Leonard W. Hall was commissioned by a reporter one day in Washington, on the theory that he could make out to write a story. Hall was then a member of the [illegible] administration of the Pilgrims.

General Wood changed the subject, but afterward, as the reporter was about to go he had a story.

"What we are fighting for," he said, "is what makes our lights. We must have our lights, so to speak.

"The Kilocycle fighting is the greatest fighting in the World. He will almost every big race; some of them he has won three or four times over. He's a fighting fool, you know.

"When during the war Joe enlisted in a cavalry regiment, and they sent him to a riding school at the Curragh in Ireland to be trained.

"When he mounted his horse at the Curragh school the riding master said to him:

"'Have you ever ridden before?'

"'Yes, once or twice,' said Joe.

"'Yes,' said the riding master, with a disgusted laugh, 'on a donkey at the zoo, I guess. Why, you've got the worst seat on a horse I ever saw in my life.'"

Electric Furnace One of Scientific Freaks

When men can thrust their bare hands into an electric furnace that melts metal with ease, it would seem that there is such a thing as cold heat. While mice, too, will run about in this furnace without suffering any ill effects, while an interior of a wireless valve can be heated to incandescence without heating the glass bulb itself.

The secret is that the furnace heats only electrical conductors, being a high-frequency induction furnace.

It is in the manufacture of wireless valves that one of the most interesting uses of this furnace is found. Just before the valve is sealed from the vacuum pump it is placed for a moment within a high-frequency coil. The metal parts immediately become red hot and the bubbles of gas and vapor are boiled out. The valve is then sealed from the pump with the knowledge that the later heating of the valve by the filament will not cause further release of bubbles.

Care of Ferns

Give your fern water only when you see the surface of the soil is dry. Then submerge pot in water for ten minutes. This will mean that every particle of soil in the pot is saturated. Whenever you water the roots spray the tops. Keep plant in a room where there is plenty of fresh air. Florists ventilate their fern houses twice each day. Set the fern outdoors whenever there is a warm rain. As soon as possible set the plant on the shady side of your porch.

Like Dynamite

There is nothing that a man will not do for the woman he truly loves! There is a type of woman who knows this and who, after having won the devoted love of a man, proceeds to use that love as a mean of gaining her purely selfish ends.

Many a woman of this type is hopelessly extravagant. She knows that her husband will make any sacrifice to gratify even her slightest whim. But she often does not know that the very love which makes him spoil her will make him violently condemn her if she indulges in dangerous indiscretions.

Love is somewhat like dynamite. If properly handled, it can serve the most useful of purposes. If treated carelessly, it can cause havoc and even death.—True Story Magazine.

University Defined

American Universities and Colleges says that in the United States a university is an institution of higher learning, comprising a college or colleges of arts, literature and science—historically the first part of the American university to come into existence—and professional colleges or schools of law, medicine, theology, etc and especially a graduate school of arts, literature and science. In addition to schools and colleges devoted to instruction and research, the university includes divisions of laboratories, libraries and museums, and sometimes a university press and research institutes. No every institution which calls itself a university measures up to this definition.

New Paltz Will Hold Celebration

At the annual meeting of the Huguenot Memorial Society of New Paltz, held at the Memorial House this week, the following resolution, presented by Judge Clearwater, unanimously was adopted:

Resolved, that a committee consisting of the entire board of trustees be appointed by the president to confer with the consistory of the Reformed Church of New Paltz, relative to the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the grant by Governor Edmund Andros on the 29th of September, 1677, confirming the purchase by the Patentees of New Paltz from the Indians of the lands which were embraced within the patent and for the celebration of the organization and founding of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of the village.

In presenting the resolution, the judge said that he hoped the president, Abram S. Jansen, would not follow the usual parliamentary custom of naming him as the chairman of the committee; that he would suggest for that position Bruyn Hasbrouck, who had both the time and the inclination. He added that it had been intended to conduct this celebration last fall, but the celebration of the sesquicentennial anniversary of the founding of the government of the state at Kingston would so completely have overshadowed a celebration at New Paltz, that it had been concluded to defer it until this year notwithstanding that it would be twelve months after date.
